TOTO! je galéria, Moskovská ul. 29 v Bratislave

At TOTO! we have created a gallery that exhibits illustrations — pictures we remember from the books we have read when we were children and also those we know from books that we read now with our own children. Yet we often don't even know the names of the illustrators who painted them: who would think of looking up the name printed in small letters somewhere at the end of the book? So it is often lost to / on us how amazing the tradition of Slovak illustration really is. And also that illustrations are works of art just like paintings or prints. They deserve to be appreciated at galleries. Or at your home.

Please, come in and have a look.
